DRINKABLES!

We aren't in any such money-making business as selling liquor, but we do sell stuff to drink that beats anything that Frank Jones can make.

What we refer to is the delicious Tea and Coffee which we carry.

Why, do you know people tell us that our 20c Coffee is as good as they usually pay 35c for. Then, too, our 39c Tea is the equal of most 50c Tea. It doesn't taste like steeped hay or straw. It's got some flavor to it.

If you wish to save money try the drinkables which we sell.

BARRE DAILY TIMES

Published Every Weekday Afternoon.
Subscription: One Year, $5; One Month, 25 cts.
Single Copy, 1 cent.

Entered at the Postoffice at Barre as Second Class Matter.
Frank E. Langley, Publisher.

FRIDAY, MAY 10, 1907.

The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

4,605

Again the sun got discouraged.

Montpelier is now irrigated from two sides.

The national government is now trying to chloroform the drug trust.

The "Burlington directors" may be said to be "off their trolley" for a fact.

That Burlington beef case appealed to the United States supreme court is in the hash stage.

Now if St. Albans keeps together as well as it gets together, this series of municipal banquets will not have been in vain.

Barre-Montpelier makes its bow to the New Hampshire base ball league tomorrow. If it plays in the way it used to do, let New Hampshire men look out.

And to think of the Laird o' Skibo, Henry H. Rogers and the Countess of Yarmouth stuck in the mud off Sandy Hook! Hasn't the mud any consideration?

Inasmuch as the Vermont maple sugar exhibit for Jamestown has been lost, Vermont may be said to have "wasted its sweetness on the desert air."

The Northfield News suggests hitching a rope to the State House and snaking it down to Montpelier Junction and then let Montpelier tag on behind. This to settle the question of railroad accommodations.

It may be rather surprising to some Vermonters to be informed that the Fairbanks Scale Works at St. Johnsbury employ 1,200 men, but that is what is reported from the last annual meeting held recently.

Justice is wearing a mailed glove down in Bennington. A girl horse thief gets six years imprisonment. A man who thought to improve his raiment at the expense of a storekeeper gets not more than fifteen years, with a year clipped off for acting decently behind the bars. Next comes the man who is charged with murdering the little Mahan girl. What?

TROLLEY COMPANY CHANGES.

The purchase of the controlling interest in the Barre and Montpelier Traction company by Montpelier men now places this road wholly in the hands of Barre and Montpelier people, with the greater portion held in the neighboring city. This fact, in and of itself, must result in satisfactory conditions, for the owners, including the Barre men already stockholders, are those who are in close touch with the conditions which tend to the prosperity of the road. The statement that Messrs. Corry, Devitt and Frost are making the purchase in order to operate the road rather than to make a speculation is gratifying information, for the Times believes that the road will be run carefully at the same time without trying to squeeze the public. The franchise is a valuable concession, as it permits the company to operate in the most prosperous section of the state, a section which is constantly receiving an impetus from its granite trade. The road covers a field, next to that of the Burlington Traction company, and the patronage is fully as valuable. There is an interchange between Barre and Montpelier of rapidly growing volume, and we are told that the gross receipts of the company are increasing each year, although at present the most of the revenue is needed to put into improvement of the system.

That local capital sees fit to make an investment of this magnitude is noteworthy for it indicates the reliance which local business men place on the future of Barre and Montpelier. Ex-Mayor Frank M. Corry of Montpelier one of the chief holders of stock has, it is said, never made an investment of any magnitude outside of his own state and practically all his investments have been in this vicinity. He believes, as most men believe who have studied local conditions that there is opportunity for safer investments right here than away, and that, too, with a fair measure of return for the money. In fact, we do not hear so much nowadays about Vermont men owing their money on a western prairie or burying it in a rainbow gold mine. With the development of the natural resources of their own state they see "acres of diamonds" in their own yards. The Times does not doubt that the new purchasers will be satisfied in the operation of this trolley company.
